A room is a barren thing that first day Standing alone in the middle of it, the high walls seem to whisper, "You're scared, you're scared." The opening door floods the loneliness of the room with the warmth of a smile, and "I guess I'm your roommate."

A book case on top of a table, striped cafe curtains and three maroon and gold dinks on a crowded bulletin board make it a castle.

Its walls echo the cooing of pigeons, the splattering of rain against a window, the whispering of confidential revelations, the clanking of a radiator, and the ringing of "happy birthday."

It comforts the sobs of first heartbreak and the frustrations of a rough course. The varied smells of fixative, spray, hoagies and lotions mingle and become part of it. Gradually it becomes a small community within itself.

It bursts with remembrances — the first date made in front of a blazing bonfire at a pep rally, a ticket stub from a Kenton concert, the first D for a late project, a library notice for an overdue book, a worn program from the Christmas formal, and the fiery arguments at an all night bull session.

And it is a quiet witness to a wondrous miracle. The growth of a young mind taking root and sprouting into the unknown, piercing ignorance and slowly unveiling sightless eyes to the beauty of a new world.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

PRESIDENT ROHRBACH

Who is educated?

Once in a while a student says that he is going through college in three years when par for the course is four. The college professor who notes this observation is tempted to ask,—Is education only a stuffing and weighing process to pass examinations? The really great teacher seeks to capture the imagination and stimulate the enthusiasm of the student who studies consistently and regularly at all times, and not only at examination time when it is too late to achieve mastery. Obviously, time is not necessarily of the essence when a student earnestly seeks an education. In fact, no one ever finishes his education.

Nicholas Murray Butler, long-time president of Columbia University, gave educators five criteria of the evidence of an education,—(1) "correctness and precision in the use of the mother tongue, (2) refined and gentle manners which are the result of habits of thought and action, (3) sound standards of appreciation of beauty and of worth, and a character based on these standards, (4) the habit and power of reflection, and (5) efficiency or the power to do."

Some years ago Arthur Christopher Benson, a famous professor at Cambridge University, gave to the posterity of learned persons another measure of an education. He had experienced a brush with death. Indeed, those about him thought that he had died. To their astonishment, he regained his grasp on life and lived to tell his students what it feels like to die. "When I look back on that experience," he said, "and ask myself what, in that hour, were the memories I treasured, I have little difficulty in answering that examination question. I cared not at all for my plans for the future—all these things seemed unreal and immaterial. What I did care about was the thought that I had made a few students happier, that I had done a few kindnesses to many students, and that I had won the love of most of my students." To Professor Benson the good life of a truly educated and really cultured person is characterized by happiness, kindness, and love.

Soon after the commencement exercises are concluded, some of you, members of the Class of 1956, will ask yourselves,—Am I educated? Then, in due time when you join the fraternity of teachers, you will scan your own students and inquire,—Are these learners being educated only to pass their examinations in school? Sooner or later you will realize with the great teachers of all time that one's education is never finished. Then, you will share with President Butler and Professor Benson their unique vision of the characteristics of an educated person.

The trustees and the faculty join me in extending to you congratulations and best wishes.

Quincy A. W. Rohrbach, '12

GREETINGS FROM THE GENERAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The General Alumni Association brings greetings to the Class of 1956. We congratulate each and every member upon the successful completion of the teacher-training curriculum and welcome him into the great profession of teaching.

The purpose of the general Alumni Association is "to maintain a close relationship between the college and its alumni and to serve the best interests of the college, the students, and the Association."

As a service-rendering institution, it gives you, as a gift, an annual active membership in the Association. This includes the quarterly publication, The Alumni News, now in its second year of existence.

Active membership introduces you to the Association — what it is and what it does. Some years ago the Student Loan Fund was established. This has helped many students over financial difficulties and has enabled them to complete their college work. More recently the George B. Hancher Memorial Scholarship Fund, Inc., was established. For the first time this year scholarships were granted. This fund also administers the Long Education Fund which provides a scholarship to a graduate of Lehigh High School.

About six years ago alumni and friends of the college purchased the $35,000 Rothermel Memorial Pipe Organ and had it installed in the Schaeffer Auditorium. The organ is an expression of love for Dr. Rothermel, for KSNS and for KSTC.

Annually the Association sponsors the Alumni Day Activities, which bring pleasure and edification to students, to alumni, and to friends of the college. It pays to remain an active member of the Association.

The Alumni Association is interested in YOU and wishes you abundant success. Parents are going to entrust you with their most precious possessions, their children. On the first day of school these children look the teacher over, on the second day they talk him over, and on the third day they take him over. This need not happen if the teacher organizes the running of the school, deputizes pupils to perform simple duties, assumes responsibilities, and supervises the operation of the activities to assure fair play and justice. From your experience as pupils, from your training courses, and from your practice teaching you should know how to organize the school, to deputize pupils, to perform duties, to share responsibilities, and to guide and lead children. This should result in the operation of a successful school.

We wish each of you much success, happiness, and abundant living.

Sincerely yours,
Charles F. Seidel, President
The General Alumni Association

GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA
George M. Leader

SUPT. OF INSTRUCTION
Charles H. Boehm.

ALUMNI PRESIDENT
Charles F. Seidel

Kutztown State Teachers College is entrusted to the judgment of the Board of Trustees who exercised discernment and execute wise decisions upon almost every administrative problem which arises. Because this is a behind-the-scenes group, the average student does not realize the responsibility which these people hold in formulating workable rules and standards for the college as a whole.

For untangling schedule snarls, roommate rows, and other problems this hard-working trio of DEANS is constantly available. Keeping the social program on an even keel and overseeing preparations for many events for co-curricular activities is a twenty-four hour proposition. These professors are on call at all times in case of emergency and can be called "councilors" and "counselors!"

The Sharadin Studio, center of interest for all Art students, was founded by Professor Henry Sharadin. Always a beehive of activity, the studio contains classrooms, workrooms and an art gallery where displays of student and professional works are exhibited. It is here that faculty juries deliberate for hours during the judging of student products. Art Alliance also holds its meetings here.

Interest, understanding, and appreciation are the qualities which the ART DEPARTMENT wishes to instill in all of its students. Art students are given courses of study which prepare them for teaching or supervising art from kindergarten to twelfth grade inclusive.

The art department sponsors various activities throughout the year such as the trip for art juniors to New York City and the pig roast held in the fall. A workshop for junior art students was conducted. In this workshop, both elementary and secondary art projects were made. Stage sets for plays and a Christmas Party also occupy many hours of work.

Tired students with worn down finger nails, represents a jury day. Not only are art students enthroned in this fear, but junior elementary art students too have their fate to await. Whatever the project, it is a work of art!

ENGLISH — Kenneth J. Gable, Dr. Holland L. Boyd, E. Earnest Foust, Ruth E. Bonner, Dr. Archie M. Tyson.

A main concern of the all-important ENGLISH DEPARTMENT is to develop students' interest and appreciation of their own language.

Leading frosh through term papers, sophomores through literature, and juniors and seniors in more advanced English is all part of the work of these professors.

Students learn to read, express themselves on paper and verbally, listen critically, and learn the basis of language, grammar, and philology.

The SPEECH DEPARTMENT is designed to aid with difficulty in pronunciation and voice, or in presentation of speeches. These faculty members also aid in the direction of students who lead devotions in assembly programs.

Students at Kutztown are fortunate in having a capable staff of librarians to meet their needs in the library. In addition to the regular faculty, students in the library science curriculum also help to keep the shelves in order, catalog books, and file cards.

The LIBRARY DEPARTMENT is organized to help students of Kutztown become efficient in their knowledge of the Dewey Decimal System, to know reference books thoroughly, and to help people secure material they are searching for.

GEOGRAPHY — Dr. Josephine Moyer Max H. Slick.

The GEOGRAPHY DEPARTMENT aims to give students a knowledge of the world in which they live and to broaden their scope in other fields. The program is designed to help one determine the underlying causes of problems from the international level down to that of the community. Lobeck maps, research papers, Koeppen system of classifying climates are an important part of this department.

The SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT inaugurated a new plan this year — one mass lecture for the entire group and two regular class periods. Democracy as a way of life is brought to the attention of each student. In History of Civilization, the past is studied in relation to the future. Political, social, economic problems are phases covered during the year.

"The true test of learning is the use one makes of that which he learns" are words which certainly hold true in the DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY AND EDUCATION. Understanding the whole child and his needs, moving from the known to the unknown, and individual differences, are emphasized by these departments. The student is taught to think, to develop a philosophy of education and to make use of the materials he has learned.

EDUCATION and PSYCHOLOGY —Row 1: R. Brown, C. Mathias, S. Bellows, R. Gledhill. Row 2: R. Jacks, G. Weiss, W. Fink, H. Schlenker, J. Howard.

Unchanging in this world of technology and science, is Mr. Knedler, head of the MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT at Kutztown. All secondary majors and minors in the field of mathematics can be grateful for the many hours he spent explaining a calculus problem or for directing the field study while surveying the campus.

In either Fundamentals of Mathematics or Teaching of Arithmetic, secondary and elementary students receive some smattering of math. Even though no potential Einsteins are discovered, students skilled in mathematics are the products of this department. In a world of progress these leaders will help our country to progress continually.

Along with our department in mathematics, the SCIENCE DEPARTMENT also is taking its place in the study of scientific problems relevant to our needs of society. Concepts are broadened, new attitudes are developed, and, through the use of laboratory periods, discoveries are made and verified.

Every fall students can be found studying various leaves and trees, observing actions of amoebae and paramecia, and dissecting worms and frogs. Through the fields of science, zoology, chemistry, biology, physical science, all students attain a better understanding of the science area in which he has chosen to work.

MATHEMATICS — Paul A. Knedler.

MUSIC — Roy C. Thomas, Henry R. Casselberry.

For the elementary education students there is music, music, music—drum sticks, drums (handmade too), and pitch pipes—lectures, recordings, films, concerts—symphonies for all Kutztonians.

Perfect physical specimens in the form of the average KSTC student is the dream of the faculty foursome in the HEALTH and PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT: department are swimming classes in the morning, toning up tired scholarly muscles through calisthenics, and playing all types of sports.

Teaching students the meaning, aim, and scope of physical education and school health programs is an important goal. This is achieved partly through an American Red Cross Lifesaving Course, good sportsmanship, and keen competition.

The LABORATORY SCHOOLS, elementary and junior high, on campus, answer the practical needs of students at Kutztown State Teachers College. Both schools provide a teaching situation for student teachers. Every student teacher teaches the first nine weeks of a semester with a master teacher on one level, and the second nine weeks on another level with another master teacher. This activity provides students with the opportunity to put the theories which they have learned into practice. It also provides them with sufficient experience and confidence to teach after they graduate. The laboratory schools also serve the underclassmen. The schools are available daily for extensive observation of children, teachers, techniques, and methods used by teachers. The laboratory schools experiment with new methods and techniques of teaching.

LABORATORY SCHOOL, ELEMENTARY — Row 1: G. Wible, E. Allen, E. Pletsch, H. Berg, G. Mathias, S. Bellows, F. Deitrich.

ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF — l. to r. — William A. Thomson, Jr., Lucile W. Beck, Ruth M. Ziegler, Anna C. Hresko, Charles Metzgar.

The ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF is concerned with the general welfare of the student body. It is comprised of competent persons who endeavor to maintain the high standards of our surroundings. Good housing, diet, health and environment are the interests of the individuals of this staff.

Organization is necessary to keep all the accounts and student records complete. The postal department and the book store comprise a large portion of the OFFICE PERSONNEL. Each department has its own staff which helps fulfill the required work.

OFFICE PERSONNEL—Mrs. Y. Alesi, Mrs. E. Leimbach, Miss G. Sterner, Mrs. D. Mengel, Mrs. D. Glover, Mrs. E. Heisler, Mrs. L. Schmoyer, Mrs. G. Angstadt, Miss G. Angstadt, Mrs. M. Epp, Miss L. Hunter, Miss A. M. Mengel.

One of the largest FRESHMAN classes in the history of KSTC walked through the pillars of the portico last September. As strangers last fall and now as fellow students and hard workers, this freshman class has representatives in nearly all of the college functions and activities.

This class was feted in the traditional bonfire, picnic, and the girls were given a pajama party during the first week of school. Many freshmen will remember the pert, blonde runnerup for Homecoming Queen, the fun had at the freshman-sponsored May Dance, and the many trips to the library to do research for the traditional term paper. Once the target for customs officials, the "KEY-toters" and "dink-wearers" are looking forward to another year at KSTC.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS — Pres., D. Cross; V. Pres., N. Tucci; Sec., J. Benner; Treas., G. Renninger.

Dining at six.

Stressing unity among various religious groups, the FORUM presents monthly programs and sponsors several all-college functions. The student panels discuss topics concerning the handicapped child, the foreign exchange student, and youth and world affairs. Films on matters of social significance including "New Conquests of Nature" and "Crutches Go to Camp" were shown. Guest speakers including Mr. Ezra Young, World University Service Representative to Turkey; Mr. Charles Esser who spoke on "Journey through the Holy Land," and Miss Ann Guthrie from the United Nations who showed a film entitled "One God, the Ways We Worship Him" were presented throughout the year. Miss Guthrie was the guest during Religion In Life Week, February 13th through 16th, and conducted discussions in the girls' dormitory.

The Forum sponsors many activities throughout the year including Freshman Orientation Week which features the All-College picnic, the All-College mixer, and a Bonfire Party which provide freshmen the opportunity to become acquainted with the upperclassmen.

Other activities include the World University Service Fund Drive which sponsored the Cutest Boyfriend Contest won by John Shaak.

With the strains of Rock Around the Clock echoing and vibrating on every wall of the gymnasium, everyone knew it was time for a pep rally. Sponsored by the junior class, pep rallies were stimulating to the team and gave the football squad a pre-game boost of spirit. Through the help of the band and under the leadership of the cheerleaders, many of the students released much excess energy for the spirit of KSTC.

One of the best pep rallies was sponsored by the Forum on Moral and Spiritual Values. A bonfire was held and refreshments served. The frosh also displayed some of their undiscovered talent by leading the cheers. Peppy, exciting, and fun are words applicable to our pep rallies.

ACTIVITY BOARD—R. Zeigler, A. Rogers, S. Sell, I. Masulis, B. Steinmetz, H. Price, H. Strunk. Missing from picture are: L. Snyder, D. Fatzinger, J. Stolz, C. Nielsen, M. Sisko, N. Stecker, J. Young, H. Miller, K. Boley, A. Castalucci.

"The regular meeting of the STUDENT ACTIVITY BOARD will please come to order!" The purpose of this meeting is to introduce the reader to the Student Activity Board. Four members from each class are elected to conduct the activity program. These members serve on the various committees that carry out the work of the Board.

Each year a budget is prepared and presented to the student body in an assembly. The activity fee, paid by students and faculty is the major source of income for the extensive program. Activity cards are presented to each student and before entering any event the words "may I see your activity card" are generally heard.

The Board sponsors teas, receptions, dances, contracts for evening performances and assemblies, supports a Greek foster child, Ecaterinni, and sponsors Homecoming Day. The Board continually works for the interest and betterment of the student activity program.

CHEERLEADERS—C. Evans, L. McDornell, K. Spangler, N. Yoder, S. Miller, S. Sell.

Football activity in the fall also brought activity in the BAND. After hours of rehearsals during the week, Saturday usually brought storm clouds and the band marched between the raindrops or through the mud. Most disappointing development of the year was rain on Homecoming Day. Trips to Cheyney, East Stroudsburg, and Montclair were the highlights of the year for the members. Along with the support they gave to the team at the "away" games everyone had a wonderful time.

In addition to playing for the games, the band also acted as an excellent cheering section and helped to bolster spirit in the stands. Rock Around the Clock turned out to be the favorite song of both band and spectators. Majorettes and cheerleaders conspired to make a clock with a lot of personality.

The cheerleaders led the spectators in cheers, introduced new cheers, and helped boost general spirit in the "dark moments." Even though the rain came down in torrents, the cheerleaders too cheered on through the drops. School spirit has increased and these organizations can be thanked for their contributions.

MARCHING BAND—Pres., W. Jones; V. Pres., B. Witthuhn, Secy., A. Kressley; Libn., M. Miller; Dir., Mr. Roy C. Thomas; Stu. Dir., W. Jones.

Confusion!

K.S.T.C. experienced the most miserable weather of the season in the Aggie opener, but ironically, the Avalanche scored its only win in this rainy contest. But more irony was yet to come, for as the weather improved the Maroon didn't and a season log of 1-5-2 put Coach Patton's nine year record at 26-30-6.

The loss of Dan Tauber because of an ankle injury and the illness of record-holding half-back Rocco Donofrio left only one senior, tackle Sam Pascoe, remaining on the squad.

Co-captain Art Castellucci was "Mr. Offense" as the speedy halfback set a new rushing mark of 543 yards and added 247 more via the aerial route for a total offensive record of 790 yards.

Other back field acres were Jim Hoffman, Lou Ritrovato, Steve Ditsky, Art Bachman, and converted end, Ed Demansky.

Dick Campeotto, the other co-captain, and All-Conference and Little-All-American center, sparked the lineplay with Pascoe, Reed Maurer, Bob Klova, Keith Newhard, Tom Check, and Tom Sawyer.

Despite rain, HOMECOMING DAY had some bright sunshine in the smiles of the lovely Homecoming Queen and her court. Presented to the guests at the luncheon and later feted at the dance in the evening, the queen and her court had an active day.

Under the leadership of the Activity Board, Homecoming Day is planned each year for alumni and parents. Guests are given guided tours of the campus, a luncheon and dinner are planned and, as a high light of the day, at which floats are presented, a football game is played.

WAA COUNCIL—L. Snyder, R. Karper, G. Sanseverino, N. Yoder, S. Sell, J. Poore.

The WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION plans the sports program for all the college women. The Council includes officers of the Women's Athletic Association, Leaders Club, Tau Kappa, and the managers of the major intramural sports. Keeping a point system of all the activities in which the girls participate is one of the main jobs for the association. The honor teams in hockey, basketball, volleyball, and tennis represent KSTC in Sports Day Programs at Cedar Crest, Moravian, and Albright. At the end of the year, an outstanding senior athlete receives a special award at the annual WAA dinner.

Volleyball, a popular mid-fall sport for all, emphasized teamwork and cooperation combined with physical and mental alertness. Teams from all classes competed for the championship, this year won by the Juniors.

An organization for junior girls, YOUTH LEADERSHIP meets the first semester of the year only. Miss Glassford organized the program and prepared the weekly activities.

The majority of the year was spent in acquainting the girls with organizations such as Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, Y-Teenagers, and the 4-H Club. Organization, leadership, and programs of these groups were discussed and questions answered.

Many activities were carried on directly in the club such as folk-dancing, games, group singing, nature craft, and dramatics. A cook-out was held to give the girls the opportunity to cook food outdoors, to build a fire, and also to gather material out-of-doors.

The main social activity of the group was a Christmas Party held in the Little Theater.

One organization on campus which is open to all non-art students is FELLOWCRAFTERS. Meeting the first and fourth Wednesday of the month, the members are able to work on projects they desire. Creative abilities of non-art students are often discovered.

Activities during the year include a picnic sponsored in the fall held at the Kutztown Park. Demonstrations by art students during the year also increase interest in the organization. Basket weaving, chip carving, oil painting, water colors, paper sculpturing, metal work, jewelry, yarn project, and other arts and crafts were all completed during the year. A spring banquet and exhibit were new additions to the agenda and provided for display of projects completed during the year.

The Beaux Arts Ball held in October with the theme "Theatre, Radio, and T.V." brought out masqueraders of many varieties. Co-sponsors with the Art Alliance, the Society also sponsors the Christmas Dinner and the ever-popular Christmas Art Bazaar.

The ART EDUCATION SOCIETY is an organization open to all junior and senior art students. The Society is affiliated with both the national Art Education Association and the Eastern Arts Association. Instrumental in the success of the seventeenth Annual Art Conference held November 18th and 19th, the organization functioned efficiently. The theme of the conference was "Freedom and Restraint in Art Education."

The program throughout the year acquaints the student with professional ideas and causes one to be aware of the different types of art. At the meetings, slides are shown, different types of art are discussed, demonstrations are performed, and professional artists often discuss their work. Students also devoted one meeting to making projects for the Art Bazaar.

Masqueraders carried out the theme of "Theatre, TV, and Radio" at the BEAUX ARTS BALL this year. Amid the setting of stage sets and props the costumed dancers swayed to the music of the "Six Dukes" in the college gymnasium. The highlight of the dance was the grand march of all the masqueraders. Prizes were awarded for the most outstanding costume. Robert Omrod, a senior, received a prize that was awarded for the first time this year. The award was in recognition of his being a prize winner at the Beaux Arts Ball for four years. This annual Ball is sponsored by the Art Education Society.

TALENT NIGHT culminated a successful World University Drive. Fun was the general theme of the evening. An array of splendid songsters, jokesters, and instrumentalists were featured in the program. Gerald Leisey and Rosemary Leininger were kept busy by popular demand serenading the guests. Highlighting the evening was the announcement of the winner of the "Cutest Boyfriend" contest.

K. Hoak and H. Strunk prepare for the annual Art Conference.

Each year, during November, the Art Department holds an ART CONFERENCE. Teachers in our service area and anyone else interested are welcome to attend. It is usually a time when all of the art graduates return to meet old friends. The latest art materials are displayed and the newest art methods are demonstrated.

Kenneth Hoak and Harry Strunk (above) are arranging displays which were exhibited in the Gymnasium, the Blue Room, and various other places about Campus.

This year's conference was one of the largest to convene on our campus. The faculty and students in the art curriculum do their best to make this a worthwhile venture.

A successful pre-holiday social activity was the annual THANKSGIVING DINNER-DANCE. The gymnasium was transformed into Gay Paris for the dancers with music provided by Ginger Sharkazy and his orchestra. During the intermission the orchestra presented a Colorama Revue. The main attraction of the dance was the announcement of Burton Witthuhn as Mr. Esquire of 1955-56. Mr. Esquire is a senior man voted most outstanding by the student body. The dance was sponsored by the Esquires.

The dinner was held the following Sunday evening in the Georgian Dining Room. Dinner by candlelight was the main feature with music provided by Cecelia Snell at the piano. A delicious turkey dinner with all of the trimmings was served. The tables were attractively decorated with a horn-of-plenty characteristic of the Thanksgiving holiday.

The JUNIOR LIBRARY CLUB introduces freshman and sophomore library science students to their chosen profession by a varied club activity program. Timely displays, book reviews, practice work in campus libraries, speakers, and social affairs are included in the club's annual program.

Open to juniors and seniors, the LAMBDA SIGMA library fraternity furthers interest in school library service. Speakers and materials used provide informative and practical group discussions. Also on the agenda was the Christmas dinner with Junior Library Club, the annual Spring Library Conference, a picnic, and a tea.

Dinners! Dinners! Dinners!

This was supposed to be the big year for the Avalanche, but again hard luck plagued Coach Walter Risley's team as it failed to win the close ones. Roger Cocivera again carried the offensive burden until his eligibility expired with the end of the first semester. Don Kistler and Ed Roth were scoring stand-outs, each averaging 15 points a game, while Bob Steinmetz and Keith Newhard continued their fine floor play and rebounding in addition to padding the scoring column.

Carl Diehl finished his final season and with teammate Cocivera will be the only courtman not returning next season. Diehl used his accurate jumpshot to push his scoring over the century mark this season.

Risley discovered a trio of outstanding freshman cagers in Chuck Dombrosky, Ted Kramer, and Emil Ilchuk who helped bolster the Maroon after the loss of record-holding Cocivera and Ed Roth. Roth was sidelined near the end of the season with a leg injury.

A junior varsity team was an innovation the past season and gave valuable experience to a number of varsity hopefuls for next year.

This season culminated the scoring reign of talented Rog Cocivera who holds every individual scoring record at KSTC and is heading into the pro ranks next year.

The SWIMMING program centers mainly around the senior life saving course which includes written work, class discussions, and the execution of the principles learned. Those who successfully complete these requirements receive senior life saving certificates and qualify as life guards and instructors at summer camps and swimming pools. The instructors this year are Sherril Sell and Ann Murphy, KSTC students who formerly have completed this course.

Intramural BASKETBALL teams from all the classes compete for the championship. The teams play each other until all but one is eliminated. Eight teams were formed this year. From the intramural basketball teams an honor team was chosen to participate in play days with Cedar Crest, Moravian, and Albright.

Let's keep that ball in the air!

Omrod, E. McLane, W. Lewis.

Under the direction of Miss Bonner and Mr. Faust, Time Out For Ginger and The Little Foxes were the main productions presented by the DRAMA CLUB this year. Everyone enjoyed Time Out For Ginger, presented in December, and laughed at the antics of Ginger, a fourteen-year-old girl who wanted to join the football team. The Little Foxes, a drama about the south, was presented later in the season.

Highlight of the year was a trip to Pearl Buck's home. Despite the icy roads, everyone enjoyed the informal talk with Miss Buck in her own theater. Another highlight of the year was the presentation of The Monkey's Paw at Cheyney State Teachers College as an exchange program. This was directed by a student, George Neff. During the other monthly meetings in the little theater, members heard talks by students on their experiences in summer stock, stage scenery, and stage lighting. Mr. Faust, the latest addition to the drama club advisers, has been able to help very much by his past experience in drama work.

It's only Time Out for Ginger.

The DEBATE CLUB, a new organization on campus this year, was inaugurated for interested students in the field of forensics. Since the organization is new, a program for the year has not been fully developed. Debates within the club were the major functions held during the year.

Along with debates, the club plans to help students develop better speech habits and to prepare and present better speeches. Experience gained will also be advantageous in classes.

Members of the club are planning for activities next year and wish to have inter-collegiate debates with other local colleges.

DEBATING CLUB — Seated: l. to r. — S. Fluck, M. Hamilton, M. Levit, J. Matthews, N. Stecker, Mr. Gable, B. Knerr, V. Blakely, G. Renninger. Standing: l. to r. — J. Kardos, R. Yoder, E. Quig, J. S. Warren preparing for a broadcast.

"Heard but not seen" are the words which can best describe the activities of this organization on campus. Broadcasts on Allentown and Bethlehem stations are frequent and provide opportunities for members to use their creative abilities. Scripts must be written, rehearsed, and taped before they are ready for presentation.

However, the RADIO FORUM did become visible when they presented a short television program via an Allentown channel. In alliance with this presentation, the club also visited the WCAU television station in Philadelphia.

Club meetings are held once a month and during that time scripts and field trips are planned, panel discussions held, and discussions made of different areas of the broadcasting field. Occasionally films are shown.

As a final fling at the end of the year, the Forum had a banquet at which they had vision and radio as guest speaker.

The SECONDARY EDUCATION CLUB is devoted to the field of secondary education. These students enjoyed various activities designed to enhance and stimulate their thinking in preparation for their chosen profession. Among the activities which they enjoyed were a speaker on liberal arts, a master teacher's talk, slides on Mr. Schlenker's trip, and many discussions on student teaching.

For added interest there was the annual, combined Secondary-Elementary Club dinner in November, which was followed by a gay picnic in Spring.

It is hoped that the members of this club through the varied activities, will be enlightened to the advantages and disadvantages of the education profession.

Preparing the agenda for a Secondary Club meeting.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION CLUB — Officers: H. Clauser, R. Heintzelman, S. Manbeck, J. Karr, J. Kline. Sponsor: Miss Susie Bellows.

All elementary students are eligible to join the ELEMENTARY EDUCATION CLUB. The purpose of the organization is to develop a broader perspective and understanding of the elementary education field and to promote a spirit of fellowship among its members. Under the leadership of capable monthly chairmen a program was established which included a film entitled What Greater Gift, student teachers' views, practical use of science in the elementary field, and a program which introduced us to local authors of children's books. At the Christmas meeting, ideas for practical and inexpensive Christmas decorations were presented. On November 17th the club enjoyed a dinner meeting with the Secondary Education Club, at which time Mr. William Bartholomew, Assistant Superintendent of Lehigh County schools, spoke.

The Elementary Club here on campus is part of the Association for Childhood Education International and members are required to pay dues to become a part of this large group. Delegates were sent to the national convention held in Washington, D. C., in April.

ESQUIRES—C. Diehl, L. Staiger, L. Kauffman, B. Witthuhn, D. Gery, C. Zarimba.

Congratulations, Mr. Esquire!

The ESQUIRES could easily be regarded as "The Sacred Six" since they are supposedly the "pick of the crop" of resident men on campus.

A spirit of friendliness, cooperation, and participation among the residents are the aims of Larry Kauffman, Charles Zarembo, Carl Diehl, David Gery, James Peterson, and Larry Staiger, with their adviser, Dr. William Liggitt.

Activities sponsored by this group included the Thanksgiving Dance which featured the election of Burton Witthuhn as Mr. Esquire of 1955; Open House, which was one of the highlights of the social activities for the Christmas season; all male smokers with good talk and even better food; a cooperative luncheon with the commuting men; and the annual men's assembly.

Must have been a good move.

ALPHA TAU KAPPA—These Greek letters stand for the national honorary athletic sorority at KSTC. Founded by the late Miss Stern in 1933, the sorority not only exists at Kutztown but also includes several of our sister colleges.

Tau Kappa girls are distinguished by their white blazers and sorority pins. In order to be eligible for membership a girl must earn one thousand points in the athletic program and must have a good scholastic record. She is then voted on by the active members of the organization. A private candlelight installation ceremony is held in February and another one in May for those girls achieving this goal.

The activities of Tau Kappa are not limited to athletics. Many charitable contributions are made throughout the year. At Christmas time a "silver for Christmas" drive was held and the money used to purchase a Christmas basket for a needy area family. Collecting and mending toys, parties for underprivileged children, and sending children to summer camps are also a part of the work of this organization.

The Tau Kappa girls aim to develop better sportsmanship. By the time they have earned their "K," the recognition these women athletes receive is well deserved.

"I'm so stiff I can hardly move." These words echo throughout the girl's dormitory on a Friday morning. The reason? LEADERS CLUB had fencing practice the evening before.

Fencing practice is only one of the numerous activities the girls remember. Others include swimming, tumbling, and playing basketball and volleyball. These experiences aid the girls in becoming good leaders and in developing better sportsmanship.

Leaders Club is a major athletic organization for women. As part of its program during the year, it sponsors co-ed games every Monday evening. The girls can also be found participating actively in intra-mural sports either as a player or as a referee. Included in the social program are two dances, a square dance in the fall and a novelty dance in the spring.

"Grab your partner and away we go!"

ART ALLIANCE — President, E. Horton; V. President, C. Betrone; Secretary, L. Salerni; Treasurer, M. A. Templeton.

Demonstrations by noted artists and craftsmen, motion pictures, speakers, group discussions and projects are included in the varied program of the ART ALLIANCE.

Open to all freshman and sophomore art students, this organization gives members opportunities for leadership and participation in regularly scheduled group activities.

This year's program consisted of a lecture and exhibition of South American artifacts by Alliene DeChant; an illustrated talk on the heritage of the Pennsylvania Dutch by Olive Zehner, one of the producers of the Broadway hit "Plain and Fancy"; a demonstration by Josef Neubaur on the art of pastry decoration — Mr. Neubaur, a noted pastry chef has transferred his vocation into working experimentally with ceramics; and a showing of slides and a talk by Mrs. A. Weaton on "The Life of the Madonna."

A group of exceptional recent art films were also viewed by the members.

Abstract Christmas trees are under way!

Christmas brings yuletide delicacies and joyful singing.

The beginning of the holiday season at Kutztown was launched by a dinner presented by the BIBLE STUDY GROUP. Amidst candlelight and holiday decorations a delightful program was presented with Rev. Grant Seidel, a gospel magician, as guest speaker.

Weekly meetings at Bible Study center around discussions by the pastor, Bible Quizzes, and object and chalk talks by Mr. Pawling. All discussions are based on a non-denominational point of view. Also included in the program this year was a talent show by the group and an illustrated lecture by Miss Dorothy Lutz about her missionary work in the Belgian Congo. Her talk was inspiring and, as a project, the group packed a box with items she could use in the mission field. Many of the articles were hand made.

Hymn sings always seem to highlight every Bible Study meeting. As attendance mounted, the singing became more enthusiastic.

A social sponsored by the young women of the church and one by the organization itself helped establish interest and provide enjoyment.

Distinguished guests enjoy the Christmas Dinner.

Joining in after dinner singing are T. Evangelista and A. Voeks.

Candles flickering, music softly playing, and heavenly aromas mingling put one in a nostalgic mood which calls to mind the annual CHRISTMAS DINNER. As one dreams on he can even hear the strains of the music from the dance which followed. The formal Christmas dinner-dance is one of the most gala events in the social calendar at Kutztown and is usually remembered for a long time.

At the height of every holiday season at Kutztown, the CHRISTMAS CONCERT presents a dramatic climax to the season. Via the combined efforts of the choir and the orchestra, the musicians again presented a fine concert.

This year at the annual presentation of The Messiah, a guest soloist, Mrs. Lillian Schmoyer, added to the beauty of the score. New airs, new soloists, and new interpretations gave another view to the production.

In combination with the orchestra the choir also sang Bless This House. The organ accompanied group singing and also provided a prelude to the concert.

Following the concert a dinner was held in the Georgian Dining Room. This event provided a very fitting climax to a day of musical activity.

Throughout the year the orchestra and choir spent much time rehearsing for special events such as Baccalaureate Service, Commencement, and the annual College Cultural Festival concert in the spring.

"Twenty-four gals and one guy" assisted by three faculty advisors give freely of their time and add greatly to the success of many college functions. Presenting an attractive appearance at all affairs, they are always on hand with a smile and a "Thank you and may I help you?" Assisting at evening performances, assemblies, in-service conferences, commencement exercises, and other special occasions has earned for the SERVICE CLUB the title of Kutztown's most active club. New members are chosen from the Freshman class in September and monthly meetings are devoted to arranging schedules for serving at various college functions. Social events enjoyed by members and advisers include a successful annual dinner and a spring picnic.

Immediately following our holiday season, the VIENNA CHOIR BOYS presented a concert as part of the schedule of evening performances for the year.

Laughter, amazement, and warmth were reactions registered by everyone as he sat in the auditorium and heard these youngsters. The angelic expressions on their faces and their melodic voices reached into the audience and held each person spellbound for the all too short time of the concert. As ambassadors of good will and as musicians the boys fulfilled their mission and achieved their purposes. Everyone will long remember the boys in their sailor suits with shining faces and freshly combed hair. We here at Kutztown can truly be proud to have had such a fine group present an evening performance for us.

Misery loves company!

It's that time again. The nights when doors are locked, books are wide open, the "midnight oil" burns brightly, the library is well occupied, the halls see bleary-eyed scholars long after "lights out." It's EXAM week, the time which we meet twice each semester with butterflies in our stomachs, tense nerves and weary brains. The butterflies tell us that we should have studied all semester instead of "cramming" those last two nights. The tense nerves remind us that this is really the final evaluation of what we have accomplished. Finally, the weary brains assure us that we've put something into it. The big question — "What will we get out of it?" — gradewise, that is. After all, it really doesn't matter, cause who cares if — The Howler Monkey is less pugnacious than the South African Baboon. (T or F)

Only exams could keep J. Russo and M. Weaver up after "lights out."

The Keystone Chapter of FTA is open to all students. Payment of local, state, and national dues is required of all members.

This organization promotes the professional growth of students, gives prospective teachers practical experience in working together in a democratic way to solve the problems of the profession and the community, establishes good public relations between the college and secondary schools, and recruits well-qualified individuals for the teaching profession.

Activities sponsored by the group include a motion picture and an All-College Blueroom party. In addition, members act as guides during the In-Service Teachers' Conference.

Both the SOPHOMORE and JUNIOR classes were active throughout the 1955-56 term. Topping the sophomore list of activities was the Valentine Dance, which the class sponsored in February. For the second consecutive year, the sophomores were proud to claim the top honors during Homecoming day, since the Queen was again selected from their class. Although important events such as these loom large among college experiences, it is small things as the National Sophomore Exams (and just plain exams!) that have left an indelible mark on all sane sophomores.

For the juniors, there was that typically junior thought, just one more year to become a group of KSTC alumni! This thought did not detract from the enthusiasm of the class, however. Many students busied themselves working on the 1956-57 All College Review. Then too, there was planning or just reminiscing about the decorations or the orchestra at the Junior Prom. The moment when class rings arrived was an important one. The combined efforts of these two classes formed a vital part of school life.

Patently waiting.

"You can do better than that!"

Hats off to the stars of It's Delancy.

The story of a street and its people — the 1956 ALL COLLEGE REVUE — was presented to the general public on February 3 and 4.

Written and composed by Elayne Gerbrick and Michael Weaver, this fast-moving, completely original production was directed by Charles Badders and Harry Strunk.

In stellar roles, Gerry Leisey, Ann Kressley Nailor and Cynthia Brandt will long be remembered. The "pickle packers" stole several scenes with their comedy and the supporting actors also played their parts very well.

CANTERBURY CLUB is an organization designed to give Episcopalian students the opportunity to unite for worship. This gathering partially compensates for the absence of an Episcopal church in the community.

Reverend Sutton from Reading generally is in charge of the meetings which are held at Dr. Hesse's home. The meetings consist of a short devotional service of prayers and hymns, followed by discussions, guest speakers, or student speakers. Plans for an All College Party in March also required preparation. This organization has grown along with the increase of the student body.

Deadlines, headlines, and worry — these words aptly describe the school newspaper. Published on a tri-weekly basis, the KEYSTONE highlights college events from sports to social activities.

Artisans in their field, the staff presents up-to-date information to the students. Poems, editorials, art creativity, personalities — these and more can be found in one issue.

The KEYSTONE is a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the Pennsylvania Press Association. Recommendations and criticisms are offered by these organizations for the betterment of the newspaper.

Ah! the finished product.

All this and more goes into putting the KEYSTONE together.

CAMERA CLUB — l. to r. — G. Romick, G. Wilkins, Mr. Sharpe, J. Wimmer, B. Hewes.

Learning all about camera equipment are B. Hewes and J. Wimmer.

Those far away places are what intrigue these enthusiasts of geography. The club is open to anyone interested in geography. Everyone enjoyed the club-sponsored All-College party. Included in the varied and very interesting program was an address by Richard Yeager, who spoke on the "Thule" Air Force base in the Arctic. The GEOGRAPHY CLUB also heard impressive talks on Peru, Ecuador, and British West Africa. In addition to these activities carried on at meetings, club members predict daily the weather twenty-four hours in advance by means of the weather station installed on the roof of the library. The annual spring field trip was taken. As a climax to its activities, the club saw and discussed the film, The Color of Man.

A fete at Sport Night between P. Baron and O. Shupp.

The year-long M.I.A.A. program is always highlighted by the annual SPORT NIGHT when teams representing each hall and the commuters engage in some lively indoor athletic contests.

An underdog Fourth Hall team snapped Third Hall's three-season winning spree with a tremendous scoring burst in the last six events and then held off a fast-closing Second Hall squad in the final event.

Captain Jim Peterson's crew tallied in the stick relay, tug o' war, and Indian wrestling, where Steve Petruska downed Lee Schultz of the commuters. Les Miller continued the scoring pace with a first in the rope climbing and then Tom Check and Bob Klova put the new champs ahead to stay with an exciting win in the horse and rider.

Dan Bare, the tennis ace, thumped his opponent in ping-pong and finally a team victory in a whiz-bang volleyball match put the trophy on the Fourth Hall shelf.

Art Castellucci helped spark Second Hall with an arm wrestling win and shared honors in the horse and rider with Keith Newhard. The attendance was good, the program well organized, and the officiating tops in the best SPORT NIGHT ever presented at KSTC.

NEWMAN CLUB — President, V. Tavish; V. President, I. Masulis; Recording Secretary, M. Rapseik; Corresponding Secretary, E. Ungvasky; Treasurer, J. Holland; Chaplain, Father Francis Fox.

It's a great day for the Irish!

Every other Tuesday evening will find a faithful group of NEWMAN CLUB members preparing to hike downtown, a distance of one mile, to Saint Mary's.

During the course of the year many topics are discussed such as religious views on home and family living and on marriage. A new practice has been added for the first time this year—each meeting opens with benediction. The program also includes a social schedule which helps students grow socially as well as spiritually.

Under the direction of Father Weeks, a successful mission was conducted in November. A choir which sings at Mass on Sunday was successfully organized.

Newman Club is part of a National organization of Catholic students. Through other organizations of this type, a regional dance of eastern college clubs was planned.

All sorts of fun at a Lutheran Meeting.

An active program for Lutheran students is provided in the bi-monthly meetings of the LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION. Delegates were sent to the Muhlenberg Area Conference. A spiritual and social growth was an aim of the organization.

KAPPA DELTA PI is an honor fraternity for students of high scholarship. Thirty-nine new members were initiated this year. Freshman and sophomore students on dean's list were entertained in February. A student help program was introduced for the first time.

COMMUTING STUDENTS must be commended for overcoming transportation problems in addition to the usual college dilemmas. Robert Leidich, Herb Zettlemoyer, William Baer, and Richard Garger, with the sponsor, Dr. William Liggitt, make the commuting men's lives livable by procuring interesting speakers for their Wednesday noon meetings.

Kept in training by home-cooked food, the commuters always give an excellent performance in intramural athletics.

The concourse is often considered a second home by these students, and it is here that many opinions on varied subjects are eagerly aired.

An annual dinner with the resident men is a big event in the lives of the men commuters.

As an organized group the commuting women present an annual bazaar for the benefit of all students. The commuting room is open to everyone and the delicious food prepared by the girls is sold. Later in the spring, a luncheon is held in the Georgian dining room.

Comprised of members from each class, the KEYSTONIA staff worked feverishly to present an annual record of campus activities and personalities. There were struggles with rusty grammar rules, patience and understanding from sometimes anxious advisers, long distance phone calls, typewriters continuously clicking, planning, budgeting, layout headaches, paste ups, scouting for and identifying photos, writing, meeting deadlines, proof-reading copy — all this and much more resulted in the college annual — the KEY-STONIA.

Coach Horace Heilman's netmen began this season with a quintet of veterans and a number of freshman hopefuls that might spur KSTC's court fortunes to take a turn for the better in the 1956 season.

Despite only one win, the Avalanche boasted one of the top collegiate TENNIS players in the area last season in the person of Dan Bare who suffered onl yone reversal in singles competition. The loss of captain Al Koehler, Floyd Humphrey, and Joe Peta causes a serious gap in the lineup, but fourth year men, Les Miller and Fred Slopey, are expected to take up much of the slack left by the graduated trio.

Other second year men returning to aid the Maroon are Al Greager and John Wendell.

The Avalanche BASEBALL CLUB blasted Millersville 13-3, in their season opener last year, but the diamondmen could not find the winning combination for the tilts that followed. Inept fielding and the wildness of his pitching staff were Coach Risley's major headaches. Big Bob Loose mowed 'em down with his fast ball to the tune of one strikeout an inning, and newcomer Tom Sawyer showed much promise in several sparkling relief chores despite poor support.

Leading stickmen were Bob Nagle, Dom Albanese, John Karo, and Dave Fioravante with Claude Setley chipping in with several clutch blows. A stronger hitting club is predicted this spring with Ben DeMarcantonio, Leroy Seip, Nagle, and the slick-fielding Dale Fatzinger swinging the hickory.

It happens every spring — Women's Open House!

Stuffed animals are always a major attraction.

The buzz of several electric sewing machines newly purchased, the smooth operation of the recently installed elevator, the establishment of rules and regulations and minimum salary for baby sitters, peace and quiet reigning in the halls — these are only a few of the accomplishments and improvements of the RWCA COUNCIL.

Composed of counselors and proctors from each hall and the elected officers, this governing body of the resident women has a reputation for "getting things done and in the correct manner."

Sponsors of the Women's Assembly — the beautiful, lavish Hess Brothers' Fashion Show; coordinators of the Women's Luncheon — dinner music and a noted guest speaker; instigators of the rollicking, laugh-filled pajama parties, hostesses at the Women's Open House — Springtime house cleaning, preparing "goodies" for the men of the college, and opening their rooms to the general public — these are the functions of this hard-working group of college women.

But conversation never lags.

Snappy, rhythmic tap routines, graceful classical ballet dances, starkly realistic modern interpretations — these are the result of long hours of rehearsal by the talented CONCERT DANCE GROUP.

Their colorful revue is presented annually in honor of the Queen of the May and her court and viewed by the general public on May Day.

Using the theme, "The Calendar," a variety of styles of the dance depicted the twelve months of the year.

The group also took part in an exchange assembly at Millersville State Teachers College presenting portions of last year's May Day program.

As its officers, the group chose Miriam Fried, President and Lorraine Polinski, Secretary. Miss Eva M. Pletsch is the faculty adviser-instructor and Marcella Miller is pianist.

Grace and poise were the keynote of the May Day Pageant.

Times' precious seconds die rapidly and the cafe curtains are replaced with long drapes, the dinks are stored away in a forgotten box and a red butterfly chair and a golden tree lamp are welcomed by the room. One fading institution green wall is repainted a soothing forest green and the bookcase is crammed with new books.

Ticket stubs from the Junior Prom are pinned to the spot where the Christmas program once proudly blazed its message, a Kappa Delta Pi certificate rests on the spot formerly held by an art conference program and an uncompleted unit plan is tacked to the board to await finishing.

FELLOW CLASSMATES,

With the fulfillment of our college experience, society will look at us for signs of personal accomplishment such as scholastic achievement, social recognition, or athletic performance. Praiseworthy as these attainments may seem, they sometimes overshadow the acquisition of more worthwhile attributes: the desire to serve mankind, the urge to explore the realm of knowledge, and the evolution of a profound humility. These are the unnoticed qualities instilled in us through education.

By the achievement of such significant qualities as service, duty, and humility, we shall find meaning and happiness in dealing and living with others.

To you my classmates, I wish continuing success and good fortune in the years ahead.

Burton O. Witthuhn
